

Camp

They swing into water
Crossing a bridge
Scared of what might come
Singing full of laughter
Rain pounds on the window
Screaming soaking wet
Flying through the air
Dancing across the sky
Sitting around the fire
Dark, Peaceful, Silence

Deadly Silent

Sleeping through the night
Waking up not knowing something's gone
She goes to her dog
The dog does not wake up
Coldness chills her bones
Wetness run downs her cheek
Silence kills the room
It was peaceful but deadly

Gliding

Lifted in the air
Dropped to the ground
She's off
Gliding through the air
Sliding on a cloud
Icy snow glistens through her hair
The cold sweat trickles down her back
She smoothly stops
And goes again
